We offer instruction from the highest level of veterinary medical specialists who have decades of successful experience in the medical and emergency care & management of working K-9s. Active duty K-9 handlers and members of their command staff in California are encouraged to attend.

Topics will include preventive care & maintenance of the working dog as well as emergency care, drug and poison exposure, trauma management and other essential life-saving K-9 first aid information and procedures. There will be a hands-on portion where handlers will learn CPR & emergency oxygen management for canines as well as splinting, bandaging & wound management for canine trauma.

At the completion of the course a custom K-9 Trauma Kit will be provided to eligible participants. Included will be supplies for canine emergency response that are above and beyond those provided in the basic commercially available canine first aid kits.
